

pines

at night
three old men frame
the corners of the moon talking over
the scrub oak
and the ironwood breathing clouds

they have agreed
to keep an eye
on me
and on my house